Taxpayer Council Seeks Initiative Against Smog

A petition seeking signatures of 250,000 voters to end the smog menace is being studied by the Southern California Taxpayers Council for Simplified Government. The proposal would require continual gauging of nitric and sulfur emissions of all petroleum refineries and prohibit selling fuel oil containing more than .2 per cent of sulfur. It likewise would ban sale of gasoline containing unsaturated hydrocarbons or poisonous additives. The group, believing smog will be eliminated only by the people, referred to an article by George H. Fisher, an industrial engineer, in the current issue of Frontier magazine. Fisher refers to the smog board as a quasi-governmental agency unique in California's history. "It can spend the taxpayer's money virtually as it pleases, write its own rules governing both itself and its victims, and act as policeman, prosecutor, judge and jury in pursuit of its smog-control activities." He calls the story of the incinerator ban the greatest scandal of the entire air-pollution control hoax. "Here is a piece of foolishness of such magnitude as to overshadow and outclass all the rest of the district's antics combined." Muzzling automobile exhausts was likened to putting filters on
